The next screen will have Calendar Preferences. You can select the day you are going to start studying and the day you want to be test ready by. This is entirely up to you and the recruit. They can tell you what days they are available to study and exclude any dates that they cannot study on. Once all this information has been entered, click save.

Calendar Preferences

Help with this page.

Select the preferences you would like to govern the setup of your calendar.

Begin by selecting the dates you will begin study and then the date you expect to take your exam on.

Finally, choose those days that you will be available for study on.

Adjust Preferences

Notification Preferences

IMPORTANT: Once you have selected your study calendar preferences, if you happen to get off track you will have to manually adjust your calendar.

NOTE: Date(s) presented on the exclude date option may display incorrectly at the time of selection due to time zone differences. Date(s) saved will be accurately represented on your calendar.

Start and End Dates
